

We're with you on this journey.

ECHN's Cancer Navigation Team provides free navigation services to help you with the many challenges that you face and act as advocates for you and your family.

Our Navigation Team can assist you, your loved ones and caregivers in finding support and the resources you may need, including:

- Coordinating care
- Emotional support
- Financial resources
- Getting second opinions
- Managing symptoms
- Referrals for home care
- Scheduling tests and treatment

Karen Fiume, RN, OCN, CHPN, CBCN

My goal for patients is to be a strong support and advocate for them and their families before, during, and after treatment. I am always available for support or questions, or even as a shoulder to cry on.

Leslie Juliani, RN, BSN, OCN, CBCN

For many years, I have provided compassionate care and a supportive environment for all of my patients and their families. I am committed to finding ways to guide and support patients throughout their phases of treatments and assist in their individual survivorship journey.

Elizabeth C. Soucy, MSW, LCSW

I commit daily to helping patients and their families navigate the challenges of their cancer journey, manage coping with their cancer diagnosis, and accepting their new identities as survivors.

Amy Janofsky, CN-BA

My passion for advocating for patients has grown tremendously since joining ECHN's Women's Center for Wellness. I guide patients through the healthcare system and help them overcome any barriers that may prevent them from getting the care they need.

Learn more about our Cancer Care Navigation Team and how they can help you.

echn.org/services/oncology/care-navigators

Cancer Center
860.533.2929

Breast Care Collaborative
860.533.4696

ECHNSM
Eastern Connecticut Health Network